

Homemade Stitch Markers

Whether you're new to knitting and just don't have stitch markers yet, or you're knitting on the go, sometimes you need to improvise stitch markers. And the options that you have are endless.

We went to the AllFreeKnitting Facebook page to ask our readers what sorts of items they use when they don't have their stitch markers, and the ideas they came up with seemed practically endless! Here are a few of our favorite ideas for household items that can be used as stitch markers.
